SAFETY TIP

WEARING LONG SLEEVES IN THE SHOP

With the cooler temperatures of winter, some of us prefer to wear long sleeves. For safety reasons...long sleeves can get caught in machinery...we discourage wearing long sleeves in our woodshops, although there is no rule that prohibits it.

If you do choose to wear long sleeves at the shops, please ensure they are snug or tight fitting sleeves, and definitely not blousy or loose. And the length should stop above your wrist joint...definitely not over your hand in any way.

It's also worth reminding both men and women to keep long hair contained, and avoid wearing loose fitting jewelry in the shop.

OUR GOAL IS TO KEEP US ALL SAFE, AND HAVING A GOOD WOODWORKING EXPERIENCE!
